The First Electric Engine.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The Baldwin Locomotive Works of this city have shipped to the Westinghouse Electric Works in Allegheny the first electric locomotive ever built for a steam railroad.

The locomotive is the size of an ordinary box car, about thirty feet long and mounted upon two four-wheel trucks. Completed it will weigh sixty tons. It is geared for 800-horse power, which will pull a loaded freight train forty miles an hour.

By a certain change in the gearing this engine can be run up to 1000 horse power and can pull a train eighty miles an hour. This locomotive is intended for freight. The passenger ones will attain a far higher speed. The wheels are forty-two inches in diameter. Only a space eight feet square is needed in the locomotive for the electric motor. One man will operate the locomotive by means of a controller similar to that on a common trolley car, only much longer and stronger. The locomotive is built to be operated by underground or overhead trolley wires.

The cost of an electric locomotive is about equal to that of a steam locomotive or $10,000.

New Jersey Flooded.

Morristown, N. J., Feb. 7.—The residents of the lower section of the town were in constant terror all night because of the floods resulting from the breaking of the Pocahontas lake dam. The water rushed into the valley, sweeping everything before it. The streets are under eight feet of water. The people are now on the house tops and in the upper stories. The railroad tracks are under water for miles. No lives were lost, but there were many narrow escapes from drowning.

Bound Brook, N. J. Feb. 7.—The operators are sending messages while up to their waists in water. While trying to rescue an imprisoned family a man named Miller was drowned on the main street, the current overturning his boat. The flood is caused by the heavy rainfall overflowing Raritan river. The country for a quarter of a mile around is under water.

Reports of losses of life cannot be confirmed except to that of Miller. The whole population are prisoners in their own houses.

Weaver to Tillman.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 7.—General J. B. Weaver sent the following letter to Senator Tillman:

My Dear Senator: Have just read with care your recent speech in the Senate. It is a masterpiece of logic and eloquence. I am sure it will have a powerful effect. Keep your whip in hand. The same one was twice used in the United States in the ruin of and you are the same sort of a lawbreaker. Respectfully yours, J. B. Weaver

TIMES CHANGE ALSO PRICES.

Do you realize this. Do you know what made it. It was not the old time grocers who showed the people the value of a dollar, but new blood forced new prices to the front and showed the people where they were at.

We did not have to reduce prices to meet them they came to our price. This is our claim. We only want you to know where the credit belongs and deal accordingly.

We changed with the times, not after them, and our groceries are sold for modern prices.
